Walker calls for lottery

Gov. Dan Walker issued a call Friday for a second special session of the legislature this fall to establish a state lottery and a transportation authority for the northeastern region of Illinois.

The second special session will begin Monday, Oct. 22. The other session opens today.

The call also includes restoration of $40 million in transportation bond funds inadvertently omitted by the legislature in its appropriations in the spring session and enactment of laws to clarify procedures on using federal revenue sharing funds and federal funds for drug abuse programs, Gov. Walker said.

"So there can be no question about the authority of the General Assembly to address itself to the regional transportation issue, I am calling a second special session," he related.

"At the same time, the legislature should be able to conclude its work on the state lottery, which was on the verge of passage last session."

"Another key issue the General Assembly will be considering is restoration of transportation bond funds for Cook County, inadvertently deleted from the Department of Transportation appropriation bill last spring."

"There are also some procedures to be cleared up about state use of federal revenue sharing funds. And legislation relating to the Drug Abuse Advisory Council is necessary to meet requirements for administering federal drug abuse funds."

Some reluctant to give United Way

A further educational effort apparently still looms as one of the chief needs in developing strong public support for the Tri-Cities Area United Way, campaign leaders said today.

The drive has raised $234,951 or 58 per cent of the minimum goal of $400,000.

Between $400,000 and $500,000 is being sought to help finance the 1974 operations of the 18 member agencies, which perform a variety of community health, activity and counseling services.

The third weekly report meeting is set for 12 noon Wednesday, when a "Dutch treat" $2.25 luncheon will be held at the YMCA, 20th Street and Edison Avenue.

There have been some heartwarming instances of response to the campaign "above and beyond the call of duty," drive leaders commented.

In addition, however, some solicitors have encountered negative reactions in which there is a rejection of the entire idea of "giving the United Way."

Those reacting negatively, and sometimes angrily, attempt to rationalize no gift or a token gift, it was related today.

Because of such opposition, often reflecting misinformation or an absence of information, it is now felt that there needs to be an intensified educational program to "tell it like it really is" to those who voice doubt.

The first half of the current campaign drive spotlighted as potential problem areas some—not all—in the following categories:

Medium and small industries, retail stores, restaurants, taverns, beauty shops, trucking firms, funeral homes, motels, barber shops, cleaners, realtors, dentists, optometrists, chiropractors, veterinarians, architects, construction workers, service stations, television firms, and professional employees.

Air pollution hearing Thursday

A hearing on a writ of prohibition sought by Granite City Steel Co. against the Granite City Air Pollution Control Board is scheduled for hearing by Circuit Judge Harold Clark at 9:30 a.m. Thursday in Madison.

The steel firm sought the writ after the local air board petitioned for a hearing on alleged violations of local control regulations. The company contended it has a state variance to install still under that would eliminate violations alleged by the local board.

Veterans' Day— take your choice

Conflicting state and federal laws setting different dates for observance of Veterans' Day are causing considerable confusion this year among those who usually mark the day in honor of those who have fought in this country's wars, residents of such holidays in the Quad-City area and the surrounding region.

Veterans' Day may be observed this year on Oct. 22 under a federal law which was enacted several years ago, advancing the former Nov. 11 observance date to the fourth Monday of October—or under an Illinois Law which returned the holiday date to Nov. 11.

Under these laws, all public state offices will mark the holiday on the November date, while public offices under federal administration will close on Oct. 22.

Nov. 11 falls this year on Sunday, however; so those who observe the Nov. 11 holiday date will suspend operations on Monday, Nov. 12.

Unions whose employees include Veterans Day as a contract holiday are divided over selection of the date, although those favoring the Nov. 11 date are in the majority. Among those who will observe the holiday on Oct. 22 is the Carpenters' District Council of Madison County whose 1,400 members will be off their jobs on that date.

Quadrant City area Engineers Union in this area also will observe Veterans Day on Oct. 22, while the Teamsters Union is still undecided. The Quad-City Barbers Union is to meet later this week to select a holiday date.

Painters Local 120 members also are expected to decide this week. A union official said its employees' contracts specify Veterans Day as a holiday, but do not set a date.

Quad-City area unions committed to the Nov. 12 observance include the machinists, ironworkers, plumbers and gas fitters and sheet metal workers. United Steelworkers members will observe either date, but Nov. 12 under the plans in which they work.

Public schools in Granite City, Madison and Venice will observe neither date. School officials said they consider Nov.

STUNNING NEW ADDITION at the Razor's Edge, 2880 Iowa St., is the Quad-Cities' first woman barber, Phyllis Poirier, 21, of Granite City. A licensed beautician, she worked as a receptionist at the barbershop before attending barber school in Alton, and receiving a diploma. A few raised eyebrows greeted her debut appearance, but most customers, including Don Blair, relaxed and enjoyed the experience. (Press-Record Photo)

Airport okay expected soon

"We have every reason to believe there will be a favorable decision on the Columbia-Waterloo, Ill., airport application in the near future," Arven H. Saunders said Friday night.

Addressing the annual meeting of the Kaskaskia Industrial Development Corporation, Saunders, executive director of the St. Louis Metropolitan Area Airport Authority, noted that "I am unable to report that federal approval of our application for the new airport has been given."

"However, when we realize that we are planning the largest, most advanced airport ever conceived, we must recognize the need for patience."

"Our view that there will be a favorable decision in the near future is not based on any inside information."

"But we do have full confidence that Secretary of Transportation Claude V. Rinegar, who must make the final decision, will base his action entirely on the merits of the application and there is no question about the merits."

"The application meets every test of the federal laws."

"Moreover, the urgently needed new airport for this metropolitan area will fill a major need in the air transportation priorities established by the Department of Transportation."

"This need was identified formally this summer when, through the issuance of the National Airport System Plan, St. Louis was noted as one of only two metropolitan areas where a start on a new airport should be made immediately."

Auto hits tree

Two St. Louis men were seriously injured when their auto left the pavement on Bend Road and struck a tree about two miles east of Route 203 at 11:40 p.m. Friday.

Venice Fire Department rescue workers required about one and one-half hours to remove the driver, Carl Regan, 38, from the car. His right foot was pinned under the brake pedal. A jack mechanism had to be used to remove the front seat and free Regan.

A passenger in the car, William Werner, 37, was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital while workers were trying to free Regan. He was taken into surgery for four fractured ribs, contusions and abrasions to his abdomen and internal injuries and then was admitted to the intensive care unit.

Regan was brought later by ambulance to the hospital where his right lower leg was splinted. He also suffered injuries to his left knee, left wrist and forehead and was transferred to Firmin Desloge Hospital, St. Louis.

Sentiment favors Belleville College

Sentiment remains strong for annexation to the Belleville Area College as light unofficial balloting continues.

There have been 74 votes favoring Belleville Area College and 11 favoring Lewis and Clark Community College, a margin of 87.06 per cent to 12.94 per cent.

The ballot question in the advisory poll was: "If junior college services are mandatory, and if an entirely new district is not permitted, I favor the Venice-Madison-Granite City-Pontoon Beach-Mitchell area being annexed to Belleville College, or to Lewis and Clark College."

Quad-City school boards have voiced preference for formation of a new junior college district, Southwestern, but the Illinois Junior College Board staff has asked the JCB to deny those petitions this Friday during a meeting at Rend Lake College in Ina, Ill.

In the event that a new district is blocked by the state, many Quad-Cityans are hopeful of being allowed to voice a preference over which existing district this community should join.

Belleville and Lewis and Clark are the only junior college taxing districts to which the Quad-Cities could be annexed, under present state laws.

The Madison Board of Education last week voted to designate Belleville Area College as its preference in the event a new district is rejected by the state.

The Granite City and Venice school boards also may consider the issue.

Bus service, fare uncertainty prompt resignations by 2

Failure of the Bi-State Development Agency to reduce bus fares was cited in two resignations Friday—Board Chairman Edward J. Delmore Jr. of Caseyville, Ill., and Attorney Thomas Gullifio, the agency's counsel for the past 20 years.

The possibility that bus service would have been halted at midnight Saturday, was averted Friday when the Illinois Transportation Department released $77,886, the last payment from an emergency transportation grant. A new shutdown date of Oct. 22 was set.

Delmore noted that the

$77,886 will keep the buses running only several days. He assailed St. Louis city and county officials for not forwarding some of the estimated $2 million available in sales tax revenue: "I question their willingness to give the money to the bus system, even though the sales tax legislation was passed on that premise."

Pontoon seeks drainage bids

A much-disputed and long-delayed plan for a drainage system in a frequently flooded area of Lakeside Estates in Pontoon Beach was approved for bidding by the Pontoon Beach Village Board Thursday night. The project had been long inactive.

The plan calls for acceptance of bids on a surface water-type drainage ditch between the Eastgate and Westgate areas which would drain into the existing storm water sewer behind 25 Victoria Drive.

The line is expected to drain the area between Victoria and Fontainebleau drives which has been a scene of frequent flooding.

The issue of having the line built has been discussed by three village administrations. Former Trustee Fred Recker was the primary advocate for the line under the administration of Thomas Staicoff and Otto Kreber.

In April 1972, Recker resigned his board post because of a lack of support on drainage programs but withdrew his resignation after other board members promised the line would be bid.

On April 27, 1972, the board voted to have the line constructed, but the plan, calling for an underground drainage pipe, proved too expensive and the project again became inactive.

The agency board split along the state line, five Illinoisians advocating cutting bus fares from 45 to 25 cents, and five Missourians opposing it. Delmore commented, "The Missouri people want to study this thing to death. It's like the airport situation. It's ridiculous."

A commissioner 12 years and chairman two years, he concluded, "Bi-State has no future at the rate it's going. If you let political, parochial-thinking people run it, you just bicker and the people get nothing. The commissioners have done a good job of running it up to now but now they are knowing to Missouri politicians."

Langhorne Bond, Illinois Transportation Department secretary, on Friday suggested that government agencies in this area use motor fuel taxes and any future money from a proposed state lottery to help subsidize bus service.

Requests that the roadway be annexed into the village came from residents of the subdivision who complained that the road is in poor condition and asked that the village repair the road.

Moss said the 600-foot roadway still is privately owned and cannot be repaired by the village until annexed. He then began negotiating with Kaseberg to annex the property.

Kaseberg's attorney reported that consulting engineers had completed surveying for the annexation.

A $3,977 check in federal revenue sharing funds for the first quarter of this entitlement period was received, Duane Skinner, village treasurer, reported.

City plant ground breaking

A ground breaking ceremony to mark beginning of construction of Granite City's new secondary sewerage treatment plant will be held at noon Wednesday.

The ceremony will be held on the plant site adjoining the present Granite City primary treatment plant on the Granite City Army Installation grounds. Surveying, grading and fill work has been under way for the past month.

A luncheon in the Non-Commissioned Officers Club will follow the ground breaking. City officials and representatives of the M. W. Architects and Engineers and C. L. Tarlton Contracting Co., which is building the plant, will be guests at the event.

Begin veto session

By KEN WATSON
Copy News Service

Springfield—Feuding, fighting plus compounded confusion. That's the outlook for the fall session of the Illinois legislature opening today.

Beneath the Statehouse Dome, the prospects of anything substantial being accomplished are rated as about nil.

It is considered far more likely is one of the biggest political-legislative-donnybrook in modern times with Democratic Gov. Daniel Walker and Republican House Speaker W. Robert Blair as the chief protagonists.

With politics certain to be the dominant factor in the session, adjournment in deadlock is freely predicted.

The fact that neither party has a commanding edge in members strengthens the likelihood of a stalemate.

Republicans retain Senate control by a one-vote, 30 to 29 margin.

Clearly there have been two GOP deaths in the House during the year, the new law providing for the filling of vacancies allows the GOP to hold a similar edge, 89 to 88, in the House.

This slim margin diminishes the possibility of overriding any Walker vetoes, although Republicans are certain to pick up a number of Democratic votes on some issues.

There are two instances in which speed overrides are a possibility: one is Walker's veto of legislation to provide $60 million in state funds to local governments in reimbursement for money lost through elimination of the personal property tax.

The governor's veto may also be overridden on the bill that would permit immediate and virtually unlimited use of higher-sulphur coal.

Political feuding between Walker and the Republican legislative leader—plus occasional civil war matching Walker and Democratic legislators more loyal to Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley—may highlight the session.

Up to now, it has been difficult to find anyone of importance around the Statehouse who will venture a prediction as to how long the session will last.

It could be a lengthy one, perhaps running as long as Christmas. But a month of wrangling appears more likely.

One factor working for a shorter session will be temporary locating of the House in cramped quarters in the Centennial Building theater because the House Capitol chambers are undergoing remodeling.

Cramped quarters could contribute to the irritability of the House members and could well influence them in favor of an early departure from Springfield.

Farms hurt by shortages
Shortages in equipment and fertilizer in Illinois threatens a serious cutback in food production, higher food prices in 1974 and loss of revenue to farmers, Robert J. "Bud" Williams, director of the Illinois Department of Agriculture, said Saturday. Illinois and the entire Midwest are affected by this crisis, he said. "The farmer was asked to plant additional acres of crops and now he is expected to grow without the necessary supplies with which to harvest them. This is a sad situation for an industry so integrally a part of the nation's economy. Williams said federal price controls imposed early this year forced an alarming percentage of the nation's fertilizer stocks into the export market and made it illegal for plant food distributors and farmers to try to compete against foreign buyers who are able to pay more per ton for fertilizer.

Beware 'polution inspector,' itinerant repairman—Scott

Where there's smoke these days, there's liable to be fraud, warns Atty. Gen. William J. Scott.

Swindlers who've been using the old chimney inspection racket successfully for years have apparently updated their acts, and now throw in the threat of "air pollution violations" when they set the victim up for their routine.

The drill still goes about the same, Scott said, with an "inspector" who just happens to be in the neighborhood tapping on the door to warn the home owner that the smoke coming from his chimney seems to be violating state anti-pollution laws.

In another version, the "inspector" tells the home owner that his neighbors' complaint to the city in the past about the amount of smoke coming from his chimney, and the "inspector" has stopped by to see if it has been corrected.

Once his foot is in the door, the swindler proceeds about like the old, time-honored versions. The "inspector" recommends an examination by a "professional"—and he just happens to know a good one who probably is available. Since the "professional" is his partner, he is available and gets to show just how competent he is—as a con artist if not a chimney expert.

Out of sight of the home owner, he may force cotton into a crack in the furnace wall, soak it with lighter fluid, and then summon the home owner to see the "leak" he has found, which obligingly flames up from the lighter fluid fumes right before the startled home owner's eyes.

He may also crumble the mortar with a hammer or even go to the extreme of taking the heating unit apart—to "examine" it, and then find that a "special unit" must be ordered, or the whole heating unit replaced.

He takes the down payment or full payment and disappears, leaving the home owner with cotton in his furnace wall, crumbled mortar in his basement, and a diamond furnace with winter on the way.

As with all service requirements, Scott urged home owners to deal only with local, known heating contractors and repair firms, and to adopt the "don't call us, we'll call you" approach. Beware the chap who "just happened to be passing by and noticed."

No matter who is doing the work, the home owner should not permit any furnace or chimney to be dismantled or otherwise put out of commission until the full scope of the problem has been discussed, along with estimated costs, payment arrangements and just what the repairs will include.

The verbal promises of an itinerant repairman are only worth the paper they're not written on.

So far as "polution" violation, Scott warned that home owners may indeed not burn garbage or household trash in their fireplaces, since this violates most local ordinances and can result in serious smoke and odor nuisances to neighbors.

Families are permitted full recreational use of a fireplace under the pollution laws.

State residents who have been victimized, or think they may have been hoodwinked by these or any swindles, should contact the consumer protection division of the attorney general's office, at 500 S. Second St. in Springfield or 134 N. La Salle St. in Chicago.

Sues after fall

$15,000 suit has been filed in Madison County Circuit Court by Mary Hahne of Granite City against Gus Falter Jr., also of Granite City.

She alleges that on Sept. 20, while renting an apartment at a building Falter owned at 2229 Grand Ave., she fell on the basement steps, breaking her pelvis and suffering multiple contusions.

ON AUCTION BLOCK. Steve Rains and Mat Matson stand beside the new 1973 Plymouth Gold Duster which will be auctioned at the Rotary-Optimist Camelot Auction Saturday, at the Sunset Hills Country Club. The car was contributed by Mat Matson's Granite Chrysler-Plymouth, 19th Street and Grand Avenue.

Camelot auction Saturday

Donald Adams and Jack Dempsey, co-chairmen of the Rotary-Optimist Camelot Auction announced today that final preparations for the sale are being concluded.

"All early indications point to a highly successful auction, with a wide variety of interesting items being offered in all price ranges and sell-out attendance," Adams said.

The auction will be held Saturday at the Sunset Hills Country Club, Edwardsville. Attendance is limited to 300 ticket holders. Included in the price of the ticket is a Grand Buffet dinner.

The items to be sold at auction are contributed by local individuals, merchants and industries. Some of the items are wholly donated and will be sold to the highest bidder for whatever they bring. Other major items are contributed at cost, and will be sold at the highest bid over cost.

"The aim of the Camelot committee is to provide items of interest and within the financial reach of everyone," Dempsey said. "The majority of the items have a value of $25 or less, with a large number of items valued at less than $10," he added.

To date, more than 150 items have been contributed for sale at the auction with many more expected before the sale date. The more dramatic items include a new 1973 Plymouth Gold Duster; a 5-day all expense paid trip for two to Jacksonville, Fla., including a day of deep sea fishing; an all expense-paid trip for two to Las Vegas; a new Grandfather's clock; and others.

"We are receiving reports that some people understand they are welcome only if they are prepared to spend several hundred dollars," Adams stated, adding, "This is not true. We have planned an evening of fun for all who attend whether they participate in the bidding or not."

In addition to the items to be sold at auction, numerous prizes will be awarded during the evening. The auction will begin immediately following dinner and will be a fast-paced affair with an item going at the rate of one per minute.

The proceeds of the auction will be divided equally between the sponsoring service clubs to fund worthy community projects during the coming year.

Tickets are available at $10 each, and table reservations may be made for groups of eight. Additional information concerning tickets may be had by calling Ted Ellerman at 876-2020.

Dodds to retire at Central Steel

Harry M. Dodds will retire as president of Central States Steel, Inc., on Dec. 31 after a lifetime career in the metals industry.

The retirement was announced by George A. Stinson, chairman of National Steel Corp., of which Central States is a wholly-owned subsidiary.

Dodds, who became president of Central States in 1966, joined the company shortly after it was organized in 1944 following a successful career in the metals industry of the Midwest.

Stinson said Dodds made important contributions to Central States' growth to a metals distributing organization operating eight service centers and a manufacturing plant prior to its acquisition, late in 1970, by Granite City Steel Co.

Central States, headquartered in Kansas City, Mo., joined National Steel in mid-1971 when National acquired Granite City Steel.

Dodds will be replaced as president by Ralph W. Shaw Jr., who became chairman and chief executive of Central States after the merger.

Shaw also is chairman and chief executive of National Steel Service Center, Inc., another subsidiary of National Steel Corp., headquartered in Wayne, N.J., which operated 13 service centers throughout the U. S.

J. R. Callaghan, executive vice-president of Central States, will become its chief operating officer Jan. 1, Stinson announced.

Although the overall U.S.
 merchandise trade balance continues to improve, the trade balance in steel mill products does not.

Preliminary government data show that the value of steel imported into this country exceeded the value of U.S.
 exports of steel by $171.2 million during August. This compares with an overall U.S. merchandise trade deficit for the month of just $16.6 million.

Through the first eight months of 1973, this country's trade deficit in steel had reached nearly $1,282,000,000.
 During this same period, the entire U.S. merchandise trade deficit for all commodities was only $720,300,000.

August's steel imports of 1,316,000 tons raised the total for the first eight months of 1973 to 10,436,000 tons.

Although this was 3.1 per cent below the total recorded during the same period of 1972, the declared value of the foreign steel entering this country through August of this year was 10.3 per cent higher than it was during the comparable period of last year.

Despite the slight decline in overall steel imports, foreign shipments of key specialty steel products have increased this year. Through August, for example, imports of tool steels were running 63.8 per cent ahead of their 1972 pace, while foreign shipments of other steel were up 6.9 per cent.

Steel imports into the Gulf Coast region were up slightly over last year, while those in the Atlantic and Pacific coastal regions had dropped slightly.

Foreign steel shipments into the Great Lakes area were running more than ten per cent below their comparable 1972 pace.

Bakalis proposes job security plan

Superintendent of Public Instruction Michael J. Bakalis last week announced plans to adopt a formal job security system covering employees of the state education office.

Bakalis said he is proposing to put such a system into effect next year as a means of fostering professionalism among the staff of some 520 employees and in order to fulfill a campaign pledge and complete a two-year effort to depoliticize the agency.

The change, he said, is in keeping with state constitutional requirements that the office be transferred to the jurisdiction of an appointed State Board of Education by January 1975 and that the chief state school officer be appointed rather than elected.

"The intent of the education article in the new Illinois Constitution is to divorce the state education office from partisan politics, a proposition to which I fully subscribe," Bakalis said.

"Adoption of a personnel system which prohibits arbitrary dismissals and guarantees employee rights should demonstrate our commitment to that goal. I'm hopeful, moreover, that the plan we implement will serve as a model of enlightened personnel practices for other state agencies."

Bakalis said he doesn't expect to decide until January on the type of system to adopt. Among the alternatives under consideration are the state civil service (personnel code) system, collective bargaining, a modified and formalized version of the agency's present practices, or possibly a unique new proposal combining elements of more than one job security system. No proposal has been ruled out, he emphasized.

"This issue," the superintendent said, "is too crucial to the long-range effectiveness of the office to be decided without a thorough evaluation of all options. I intend to give careful study to research we have compiled on this question, to reports from our employee council and personnel section, and to policy deliberations by my administrative staff."

Policy considerations include factors such as costs, administrative procedures, impact on internal operations and employee preferences.

Bakalis disclosed that collective bargaining was favored slightly over two other alternatives in a recent poll of current employees. He noted, however, that only 33 percent of the staff cast ballots.

Results of the poll, which have no binding effect, were 136 for collective bargaining, 136 for the personnel code, 107 for the agency's present system, seven for both collective bargaining and the personnel code, and 54 with no preference.

The superintendent said he was concerned over the low employee response to the survey and will attempt to determine whether the light return had any bearing on the validity of the overall advisory referendum.

Bakalis said he began laying the groundwork two years ago for eliminating the patronage system which prevailed under his predecessors.

"As a candidate for this office in 1970," he said, "I pledged to restore the integrity of the agency and not subordinate it to partisan politics. After taking office, I asked those who were competent and who could support my policies to remain."

During his first year as superintendent, Bakalis also requested that other state education departments be surveyed to determine if the personnel systems would be adaptable to the Office of Public Instruction. That same year, he encouraged formation of employee councils within the agency to facilitate communications between the staff and management.

The employee council system subsequently was asked to study the job security question. With assistance from the personnel section, the employee group identified seven major proposals. The list of alternatives was then reduced to three for presentation and discussion at meetings during August in Chicago and Springfield for all agency employees.

Heating system care can lower fuel bills

Discussing the expected fuel bill, Dan Partney of Granite City today reported that most homeowners can lower their fuel bills and enjoy greater comfort this winter by following a few time-tested suggestions on the care and inspection of heating systems.

The heating-cooling specialist said cold floors, drafts and uneven heating from one room to another are the best indicators of a deficient heating system. Dirty fans, filters and ducts, and poorly adjusted burners and valves are the main culprits, he said.

"The best insurance for maintaining a good heating system is to have it inspected, cleaned and adjusted annually by a qualified serviceman," he said.

"The cost is small in relation to the greater comfort, longer equipment life and up to 10 per cent fuel savings an annual check-up can bring."

"Homeowners, though," he said, "can do a number of things themselves to make sure their heating units are operating safely and efficiently."

For example, filters need to be checked about every two months and fan or blower wheels should be inspected annually to make sure they remain relatively clean.

"This will assure proper air flow through the unit to prevent it from overheating and will provide good air circulation to all rooms."

"Return and supply air registers also should be checked and cleaned periodically, particularly those hidden from view by furnishings."

"Belt-driven fan motors should be occasionally checked to see that the belt is not too tight, too loose or badly worn. A belt runs at least 150 miles every day of the heating season, and its proper adjustment and alignment will mean less vibration and less wear on motor and blower bearings. The bearings also should be oiled once or twice a year."

"Proper air adjustment for the burners is another item to check annually as part of a service check-up on oil-fired units. Gas-fired units are less complicated but demand attention, too."

"A soft blue flame with luminous tips indicates that a gas heating unit has proper air combustion. If the flame is yellow and smoky or a solid hard blue, burners and valves need adjusting by a serviceman."

"The same is true if you smell fumes or detect signs of rust, corrosion or soot around chimneys and flues," Partney said.

"The most even heating can be achieved by setting the furnace to run continuously. It costs only a few pennies a day to run the fan all the time and it eliminates uncomfortable temperature fluctuations and stagnant air conditions. Keep the thermostat set as low as practical for comfort. For every degree increase in average room temperature, fuel consumption increases approximately 2 to 4 per cent, depending on outside air temperature."

The Steelers of Granite City High School North, members of a team which sprung up overnight under the guidance of Coach Tom Wyrostek, found their place in varsity football Saturday afternoon, defeating the Madison Trojans 41-8 at South Stadium to end the frustrations of four consecutive defeats.

capitalizing on Trojan errors, and the offense following through to score.
After the Steelers failed to strike paydirt from the 10-yard line, Madison failed to move past its own 11 and a bad snap for the punt landed in the end zone to give North a two-point safety.
Early in the second period, a fourth down error set up a Steelers touchdown.
Mark Sprinkle had booted the ball out to the 41 from his own six. But an illegal procedure penalty forced another kick, caught on the 31 by Bill Carr who ran it back for a TD. Lenny Wright kicked the extra point and North commanded a 9-0 lead.

Three plays and three interceptions moved the ball back from the MHS 20 to its two-and-a-half-yard mark. Another bad snap rolled into the end zone to give North two more points.
It wasn't always that easy for the Steelers. They had possession on their 45 with more than two minutes remaining in the half. In two plays they moved into Madison territory, but a Gene Logas pass was intercepted by Curt Turner who ran it to the North 28. There

Madison was stopped cold by a "monster defense."
With 17 seconds left in the first half, sophomore Larry Schleicher averted a possible Trojan touchdown when he intercepted an Emmett Timmons pass at the Steelers three and returned it 44 yards.
A personal foul penalty gave North an additional 15 yards to Madison's 28, from where a Logas-to-Schleicher pass to the 10 was carried into the end zone. Wright again was accurate with the point-after kick and with 23 seconds remaining the Steelers enjoyed a 18-0 lead.
Wright proved he was more than an extra point kicker—seconds later by intercepting a sideline pass at the Trojan 35, and carrying it 22 yards to the middle. Wright kicked the extra point for a 24-0 score.

The defense later proved its worth when Dennis Hahn intercepted a pass at the MHS 21 and dashed six yards to the 15. Two plays later, Wright ran into the end zone after Logas threw a key block.
Wright again was on target and it was 34-0.
The Trojans, refusing to give up, rallied, avoiding a fumble or penalty, they drove 92 yards for a touchdown.
Sophomore Robert Wilson returned a Steelers kickoff 16 yards to the 24 and Joe Young punted out yardage to the Steelers 30.

Timmons executed one of the finest plays seen at the varsity level, a triple-reverse, with an exchange of handoffs to Mark Sprinkle-to-Carl Campbell-to-Willie Sheary. The later ran around left end for a 39-yard victory into the end zone.
Running back Curtis Bradley provided a two-point conversion run and the Trojans trailed by 28 points.
The touchdown spurred the Trojan defense into stopping the Steelers in the next series, forcing a punt. MHS got possession on its seven-yard line.

A fumble led to a Steelers recovery at the five, setting up a Logas to Cary Simpson touchdown pass in the end zone.
Wright's sure foot provided the final point. The "look to the future" coach remarked, "The thing is, we can't enjoy this 41-8 victory very long. We have to start thinking about Edwardsville right now."
Win, lose or draw at Edwardsville at 1:30 p.m. Saturday, no one can deny that the Steelers have "come of age." Madison, still seeking an initial win, will visit East Peoria at 8 p.m. Friday.

AERIAL BOMBARDMENTS from both teams kept the players of GCHS North and Madison High hustling through much of Saturday's game. Here Madison's Willie Sheary, in white over referee's left shoulder, snags a long pass for a first down. Among North players are Ray Fyalka (80), John McMillan (77), Dave Hamilos (50), Lenny Wright (28) and William Carr (25). (Press-Record Photo)

Kahok runs doom South, 28-6

By KEN THOMPSON
Press-Record Staff Writer
The Collinsville Kahoks, now 2-3 overall (1-2 in Southeastern Conference play), pounded GCHS-South into the rain-soaked ground at Collinsville High Friday night with hammer named Bill Barrows and Mike Ashmann to defeat the Warriors for the third consecutive year. The score was 28-6.
The Warriors' usual speed and passing were at a standstill on the muddy field as Barrows and Ashmann pounded away with short runs to gain 247 of Collinsville's 259 total yards in rushing.
Quarterback Lou Greer (4-7 for 14 yards) passing after Ashmann's 17-yard game-opening kickoff return utilized more than six minutes on the clock to move the team from his 22 to the Warrior end zone in 14 plays. Barrows scored from one yard out and John Meehan kicked the seventh point.

A strong Kahok defense thwarted an 85-yard Warrior drive, which began with a 43-yard kick return by Dale Williams from the eight.
Early in the second quarter, Collinsville recovered when Williams could not hold on to a Dave Dombek pitch.
Ashmann and Barrows hit the Warrior defense time after time to move the ball 88 yards for a five-yard Barrows TD. The lead was 14-0 after the extra-point kick.
The Fighting Warriors retaliated quickly. On the kickoff, Paul Mushill moved the ball 26 yards to the Warrior 41. On the next play, Dombek hit Tom Schooley. After catching the pass on the enemy 30, Schooley dashed down the sideline for a touchdown. Bryan Bunjan's extra point kick was Dombek 7-17 for 160 yards off target and South trailed 14-6 at halftime.

The Kahoks held a 21-6 lead with six minutes left in the third quarter after a Jerry Ashmann pass interception set up a 47-yard drive to the Warrior 31. A Greer to Kerry Larsen pass then provided a 31-yard TD play.
South twice had to give up possession of the ball, once after failing to make a first down with one yard needed at its own 41.
In the final period, a Dave Ruebhausen pass interception gave South the ball on the Warrior 20. The Kahoks, in a fourth-down situation at the 34, had faked a punt and attempted the pass.

A 14-yard interception return started a drive which ended at the Kahok nine-yard line. The Warriors' 3-2 overall (2-1 in conference play) will host Belleville East at 1:30 p.m. Saturday at South Stadium.

North grid frosh win

The freshman Steelers of GCHS North, down 8-6 at half time, rallied in the second half to upset the undefeated Roxana Shells 35-8 Thursday evening at South Stadium.
North quarterback Greg Corey performed almost flawlessly in engineering the victory.
Near the end of the second quarter he hit Bruce Jettif with a 36-yard end zone pass. North failed in a two-point conversion run to trail 8-6 at halftime.
The remainder of the game belonged to the Steelers, who scored on a Corey to Leo Pelele pass with an added two-point Corey dash in the third quarter. In the last play of the period, Mickey Smith broke off tackle for a 62-yard up-the-middle TD run. Corey's extra-point kick gave North a 14-0 lead.
Corey scored on an option play from six yards out and upped the score to 28-8 with the extra point kick.
Defensive End Fred Clay, picking up a blocked Roxana punt, rammed 36 yards for the final TD. Corey again added the extra point with a perfect kick.
Roxana's points came early in the second quarter on a Corey to Pelele handoff fumble which was picked up and returned 20 yards, and a two-point run by the Shell quarterback.

Braves and Chiefs tie

The Coolidge Braves and Prather Chiefs, both undefeated, played to a 6-6 football tie at Prather Field Thursday.
Coolidge scored first on a 65-yard run by Chris Smith in the last play of the first quarter.
The Braves scored on a 61-yard run by Randy Worthen, put two into the net early in the first quarter to set a new school record.
South outshot the visitors 24-3 and had three corner kicks to Jacksonville's none.
Goldsmith was credited with four assists, one an aerial cross from the left side at 30 yards out to the waiting Mike Martinez, 15 yards from the goal.
The Braves never touched ground as Martinez headed to the goal's head. The goal was the first of two scored by him.
Four others scored one goal each—Keith Gehling, Mark Vogele, Mike Fry and Charles Bennington. Jacksonville scored its one point on a free penalty kick.
Bennington, shortly after making his one goal, was accidentally kicked by another player and was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital with a possible leg fracture.

8-1 South soccer win

The soccer Warriors upped their record to 12-1 with a 8-1 victory over Jacksonville here Saturday.

South grid frosh overpower Alton

GCHS South freshman Warriors won 14-6 over Alton North at the South Stadium here Thursday.
In the third period, South broke a scoreless tie on a Keith Champton-to-Ildon Warfield 26-yard end zone pass. A two-point Champton run followed, and the Warriors commanded a 6-0 lead at the start of the final period.
Alton scored on a 40-yard pass play to tie the game; its extra point kick was wide to the right.

Electronic bugging is widespread in Washington, D.C., Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas said today. He said former President Lyndon Johnson told him that Johnson's telephone had been "bugged" while he was president. ## Rapid transit need in region stressed

The Middle East war and cable television are among the factors that could have a bearing on public mass transportation planning for the St. Louis area, George Arnold, conference chairman for the Greater St. Louis Transportation Seminar, said at the seminar, held Thursday and Friday.

Arnold, an associate professor of engineering at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, said the theme for the conference was present and future transit problems for greater St. Louis. It was held at Stouffer's Riverfront Inn.

Arnold said the current problem facing mass transit and rapid transit in the St. Louis area is molding public attitudes to accept the concept of a public transportation system, and then use it.

If the oil supplies from the Middle East are at least temporarily cut, he said, people are going to be forced to ride public transportation.

"Regardless of whether our present oil situation is temporary or not, we are and will be in an energy crisis, if current scientific predictions are correct," Arnold said. "This means a greater percentage of citizens will have to depend on mass transit."

Arnold said that there are at present two principal approaches to the St. Louis mass transit problem: buses and rails.

"About three years ago," he said, "the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council sponsored a study on mass transit. It resulted in the recommendation of the so called, '66 mile rail system.'"

The $2 billion plan calls for 66 miles of existing railroads to be used to transport the public rapidly into St. Louis, supplemented by feeder bus lines to bring users into outlying terminals where they would board commuter trains.

At the time of the study, according to Arnold, rails were considered the solution to the public transportation problem; since then, the plan has remained largely dormant. The reason, he said, is the expense and inability to agree on the system by the parties concerned.

Arnold believes the rail system would eventually be the best solution for St. Louis. However, he is not satisfied with the 66-mile proposal.

"I'm disappointed in the proposed route because it only projects two short legs into Illinois. The rail lines into Illinois would extend over Eads Bridge to Edgemoor near Belleville, and to Granite City."

"Buses and private cars would still have to be used to bring people to those points. It really does not solve Illinois' problems," he said.

Arnold is the author of a proposal that instead would put a rail line on the bluffs and connect it to Alton, Edwardsville, Belleville and the new jet airport at Columbia-Waterloo, if and when it is built. He said this line could be linked to Granite City and Edgemoor legs and would help solve the Illinois transportation problem.

In planning for the future, Arnold said, the important thing is to develop a regional system, one to serve the entire greater St. Louis area.

Mass transit planners should also consider the impact new technology will have on transportation needs, he believes. For example, Arnold said, the availability of cable television probably would change transportation habits.

"Through cable television, people will go to school, conduct business transactions and watch sports events. As a result, they will be spending more time at home and, therefore, less time on streets and rail lines," he said.

Arnold said the meeting was intended to give life to the planning for mass transit in this region. The program brought here some of the best known people in the field to help launch a new initiative, he concluded.

Teaching overcrowded field, Kiwanis told

A total of 1,400 applications for 37 teacher vacancies was received for the 1973-74 teaching year, Raymond T. Jones, assistant to the Superintendent for personnel of Granite City School District 9, told the Breakfast Kiwanis at its Thursday meeting in Charlie's Restaurant.

There were 10 elementary openings and 370 applications; eight special education vacancies and 124 applications; eight physical education openings and 180 applications; no foreign language vacancies, but 58 applications; and 11 openings and 180 applications; education with 325 applications, the speaker said.

"With the opening of the new Granite City High School-North, the closing of Central, and taking the ninth grade out of junior high and putting it into the senior high, the job of getting ready for the 1973-74 school year became a major undertaking," Jones related.

He told the club that according to a Phi Delta Kappa survey there are more than 128,000 surplus teachers in the United States. Another survey revealed the peak student enrollment was for the 1970-71 school year, he said. Since that time, student enrollment has been declining and will continue to decline through 1982.

Jones advised the Kiwanis members if they have sons or daughters still interested in teaching, despite the overcrowding of the field, the only areas that have a slight demand are in Home Economics, Industrial Education and the libraries.

The Granite City School district has 1,090 certified and non-certified employees with a student population of 14,360.

Kiwanian Jack Mulach,

Maryville School principal, was the program chairperson Thursday and introduced the speaker.

Mark Vehnig, club treasurer, reminded the members that dues are due.

Donald M. Moser reminded the club that it will hold its first ladies night Thursday, Dec. 6, at Charlie's.

Max W. Boyd, auto center manager at Granite City, will arrange the program for next Thursday.

Albert Michel goes bowling to celebrate 90th birthday

By VALERIE EVENEDEN
Press-Record Staff Writer

The Oakland Athletics were not likely to win the World Series, according to a prediction by Albert C. Michel of Granite City, who probably can boast more years of experience in following the traditional series than most people.

Mr. Michel was 30 years old when the first World Series was won by Boston of the American League in five games to three over the National League's Pittsburgh club.

Last week, Mr. Michel celebrated his 90th birthday by going bowling in the afternoon and enjoying a family party later the same day.

Between times, he managed to watch the telecasts of the New York Mets pennant winning game over Cincinnati and see Baltimore beat Oakland to tie their playoff series.

Mr. Michel comes by his baseball acumen naturally. He is a native of Brooklyn, N.Y., a legendary hotbed of baseball tradition until a few years ago.

However, he's quick to point out that he left Brooklyn with his parents in 1885 when 2 years old, moving to Carondelet, Mo.

He arrived in Granite City in 1894 when his father, August Michel, obtained a job at the National Enameling and Stamping Works (NESCO).

Albert Michel and his brother, August, opened a grocery store at 2200 State St., in 1911.

They stayed at that location until acquiring new premises at 2200 Edison Ave. in 1922 where they continued to operate the business for more than 40 years. August died in 1966 and shortly thereafter Albert, then 84, decided to retire.

Commenting about his interest in baseball, Mr. Michel said, "I liked it better when I could play the game myself."

"I enjoy watching them on television and listening to the games on radio. I knew it would be Oakland and New York in the Series. It always seems to be the two teams furthest apart."

Mr. Michel bowls every Wednesday afternoon with the senior citizen's league. Noting his current average of 110, he said, "I used to do much better than that." He has been bowling for over 60 years.

"My big hobby is fishing, but I really liked pitching horseshoes. I was pretty good," he added.

In a recent walkathon sponsored by the Tri-Cities Area YMCA, Mr. Michel covered a distance of 15 miles.

He has two children, Mrs. Dorothy Geroff of Granite City and Alvin Michel of Rockaway Beach, Mo.

He also has four grandchildren, Dr. Chris Geroff, a Granite City dentist, Gary Geroff of Granite City, a teacher at Collinsville High School, Norbert Michel and Mrs. Ron Beard of Cedar Rapids, Iowa. His two great-grandchildren are Lance and Sara Beard of Cedar Rapids.

The birthday celebration last week was held in the home of Dr. Geroff.

Among the guests were Mrs. Valerie Theis, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Thurnau, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Francis and family, Mr. and Mrs. Alan Little and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Meyer, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Floyd and family, Mrs. Opal Floyd, Mrs. J. C. Proctor, Sam Drenovac, Syd Magnus, Edward Bartley, Ollie Bartley, Mrs. Dorothy Geroff and Gary Geroff, all of the Quad-Cities; Alvin Meyer of Rosewood Heights and Mrs. Irwin Wein of Glen Carbon.

Music from the gathering were Mrs. Marguerite Little of Fairfax, Va., the honoree's sister, the Beard family from Cedar Rapids and Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Michel.

Newagency—Office of Auditor General

Illinois, with 32 other states, will soon get somewhat of a new governmental agency—Office of Auditor General.

The average taxpayer probably is already thinking this will be just another governmental agency created at the taxpayer's expense. But it may not be the case in this situation. New laws passed by the General Assembly and signed into law by Gov. Daniel Walker provide an agency of unusually broad scope.

The new legislation broadens the powers of the current auditor general. In effect, it will also do away with the Department of Audits.

The man who headed the department, David Thomas, is now acting in the capacity of auditor general.

Thomas has been known for his hard line approach to state officials. Whether or not he gets the job will be up to the General Assembly.

The legislature will select the auditor general and the appointment will be for 10 years.

The 10-year appointment is so that the man serving in the post will serve the office, while state officials come and go. This hopefully will make the Auditor General's Office responsible to the taxpayer and not to any one political party or politician.

After the joint committee of the House and Senate select the auditor general, the appointment must be approved by three-fifths vote of the two Houses.

The Auditor General's Office will be empowered to conduct efficiency economy audits. In the past, the auditor general conducted only financial-compliance audits.

This is where marked savings may be derived for taxpayers.

In his former position, the auditor general would only make sure that there was a reconciliation of a state agency's spending with its appropriation from the legislature.

Under the new law, the office will have to determine if the individual state agency is properly using the state funds. Here again the taxpayer stands to be the person receiving some benefits.

Another section of the law, which could prove to be a boon for taxpayers, is that the office will be allowed to audit local governmental agencies that receive state funds. This ranges from school districts to the counties.

The law also allows the office to perform audits on private companies doing business with the state to determine if the state is getting its money's worth. This could be controversial, and it will be up to the Legislative Audit Commission to seek the management audits.

All in all, Illinoisans could be getting an office truly designed to go after government waste.

Bonds sold for SIUE housing

The Southern Illinois University Board of Trustees on Thursday sold $5.9 million in revenue bonds to a syndicate headed by John Nuyens and Co., Inc., and Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner and Smith, Inc. at an annual interest rate of 5.7 per cent.

The bonds will be used to finance acquisition of a 246-unit single student housing complex on the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

In companion motions, the trustees also approved a contract with the SIU Foundation for construction of the project and acquisition by the University on completion.

The SIU Foundation has a contract with Consumers Trust Co., Inc., for construction of the housing, but actual signing has been delayed until the sale of the bonds.

The new student housing will be similar to the existing Tower Lake apartment units. Unit I of Tower Lake consists of 200 two-bedroom and 45 three-bedroom apartments in 31 two-story buildings. The facilities are occupied to capacity and now serve 548 students. Tower Lake I was first occupied in January, 1970. Tower Lake II will house approximately 1,000 single students.

The bonds sold today are for a 30-year term.

Other participants in the syndicate are: Goldman, Sachs & Co., Hornblower & Weeks, Hemphill, Noyes & duPont, Walston, Inc., Shearson, Hammill & Co., Inc., Wilcox White, Belf, Lake, Rochlin & Co., Hutchinson, Shockey, Erley & Co., Chaner Newman Securities Co., Bacon, Whipple & Co.

Burglars get 9 guns, TV

Nine guns, a television and an undetermined amount in coins were stolen from the home of James Reynolds, 2212 Missouri Ave., and the upstairs apartment of Howard Whitford.

Entry to the home was gained by removing a pane of glass in the door and reaching through to open the door. A door to Reynolds' workshop was forced. Taken were six guns, including a 12-gauge German Mauser, which was a collector's item.

The others were an eight millimeter German Mauser worth $39 and four .22 caliber rifles, each worth $25.

Taken from Whitford's apartment were a $300 color television, a 12-gauge shotgun worth $80, a 30-30 rifle worth $100 and a .22 caliber rifle valued at $60. Entry was gained by forcing a lock from Whitford's door.

SIUE housing to go up

Rental rates for on-campus student housing at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will go up next fall for the first time since the housing became available in 1968.

The SIU Board of Trustees has adopted a resolution increasing rents $10 per month on all units. Increases of $15 per month on operation and the need to use the additional income to help defray bond repayments for a planned expansion of single student housing were given as reasons for the increases.

Beginning in the fall quarter of 1974, single students will pay $45 per month, a two-bedroom unfurnished apartment will cost $125 per month, three-bedroom unfurnished apartments will rent for $135 per month. Two-bedroom furnished apartments will cost $135 per month and three-bedroom furnished apartments $145 a month.

The new rates will mean students in existing on-campus housing will be paying within $5 per month per unit what will be charged for comparable space in the new housing.

University officials said the increase is necessary to avoid use of pledged student tuition and fees to support bond debt service.

Demand for good student housing is unusually high in the Edwardsville area and the new rental rates will compare favorably with rates charged for off-campus units, trustees were told. The Housing Office at the University now has a waiting list of more than 600 applicants for Tower Lake housing.

Symphony deficit, rising costs cited

The St. Louis Symphony, which has played at the Mississippi River Festival here for the past five summers, last week adopted a record $3.4 million budget for 1973-74.

W. Boardman Jones Jr., St. Louis Symphony treasurer, warned that in spite of projected earnings from ticket sales, fees and grants of $1,800,000 and contributions from the Arts and Education Council and other sources of $1,150,000, both the highest in the orchestra's history, a deficit of over $400,000 for the year must be covered by additional income if the orchestra is to complete the season.

Election of Rep. Richard J. Rabbitt, speaker of the Missouri House of Representatives, to an unexpected term as board member—created by the resignation of Judge James M. Douglas—was confirmed by the board. Rabbitt is a lawyer with offices in St. Louis. Judge Douglas served on the Symphony board since 1965 and was a member of its legal committee.

W. L. Hadley Griffin, vice-president of the Symphony Society and chairman of its Labor Relations Committee, reported on negotiations leading up to the orchestra's recently-signed three-year contract with its musicians. Griffin and Jones both commented on implications of the contract on the orchestra's need to raise more funds from a variety of public and private sources.

$3 million lawsuit filed against GC and officer

A $3,085,235 lawsuit has been filed in Madison County Circuit Court against Granite City and Police Lt. Everett Kelly on behalf of George Mihu.

Mihu was injured in a March 25 auto accident at Edwardsville and Nameoki Roads and Kelly responded to the accident call.

The suit alleges Kelly pulled Mihu from the car in which he was a passenger, despite warnings from ambulance attendants to wait for trained medical personnel and an immobility unit.

Mihu alleged his spinal cord was injured while being pulled from the car, causing him to be paralyzed and classed as a quadriplegic.

Energy seminar

On Saturday, the St. Louis Coalition for the Environment will sponsor an all-day public speakers' dealing with energy problems; admission is 50 cents.

The program will be held at the Washington University Law School (Mudd Hall) and will run from 9:30 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Speakers will include Cong. James Symington and Dr. Robert Herendeen of the University of Illinois.

The sky is the limit at the Cahokia Mound State Park during the weekends, weather permitting, as sailplane enthusiasts deal with the skill and the agility of the planes.

The sailplane fliers come from as far away as Springfield, Mo., to fly at the park.

Two weeks ago the "fliers" got together for competition and Granite City's Richard M. Loyet and Ted Damsu, took second and third place honors, respectively.

First place went to Bob Welch of Springfield, Ill., who flew a Cirus plane with a 120-inch wing span, garnering 143 points.

Loyet, flying an Olympic 100-inch winged plane, scored 141 points and Damsu, also with a 100-inch Olympic, scored 138 points.

Points are based on precision flying and spot landing. The object is to keep the planes in the air for seven minutes landing them on a specific spot.

We have no formal organization, just people who like to fly sailplanes. Anyone is welcome to come out to the east side of the park and join us," Loyet said.

Pack awards highlight Cub Scout Roundtable

"Genius Night" was the theme of the Cub Scout Roundtable meeting of the Unihav District held last week at the Nameoki Recreation Center.

Ron Luebben, Roundtable commissioner, welcomed the group and those attending were presented a "button hole" puzzle by Dot Cather, a Scouters Reserve member.

Genius award ribbons and puzzles were explained by Mrs. Myrna Geisler, den leader coach for Pack 7, sponsored by Joseph School. She also performed a skit, entitled "The Mad Scientist," relating to the Webelo geologist activity badge.

Group singing was led by Mrs. Vee Thorne of the Roundtable staff and games were demonstrated by Mrs. Pat Shable, Scouters Reserve unit.

A craft session, lasting 20 minutes, produced several unusual "junk" items for display. The importance of making the "genius" theme a father and son project was the topic of District Scout Executive Mark Yohling.

Leaders and committee members were reminded of a program scheduled today at 7 p.m. and on Oct. 29 at Central Christian Church by Floyd Jordan Jr., district training chairman.

Jordan presented Mrs. Thorne with a certificate and training knot upon completion of two years as a den leader coach.

Yehling reported plans for the fall camporee held during the weekend at Cahokia Mounds State Park.

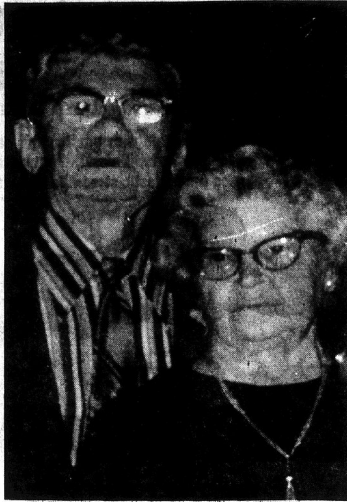

The district executive was assisted by Arno Sporenman, unit commissioner, in presenting "Summertime Pack Awards" to units which conducted three activities during the summer months involving 50 per cent participation by unit members.

Accepting awards for their Cub Scout units were:

Cubmaster Leon Scroggins, Pack 12, Niedringhaus PTA; Cubmaster Pete Wilkinson, Pack 107, Venice-Madison American Legion Post 307; Cubmaster Rick Lucido, Pack 108, Lake PTA.

Cubmaster Ron Ogden, Pack 122, Wilson PTA; Cubmaster Ed Dohal, Pack 47, St. Mary's School; Cubmaster Marvin Meng, Pack 28, Parkway PTA; Cubmaster Bennie Miller, Pack 46, Nameoki PTA; and Cubmaster Joe Williams, Pack 19, Washington PTA.

Prayer and a Cub Scout song concluded the meeting. "Christmas in Other Lands" will be the theme at the Nov. 13 roundtable.

MR. AND MRS. OSCAR I. LOYET, 2682 Iowa St., who observed their golden wedding anniversary at a family dinner Sunday at Charlie's Restaurant. They have lived in Granite City a half century.

Trio Homemakers make pre-Yule plans

The major lesson on "Death and Other Family Stress" was presented by Mrs. Ruth Brevi at a meeting last week of the Trio Unit, Madison County Homemakers Extension Association, at Hope Lutheran Church.

Mrs. Ivan Graklanoff gave the health lesson based on the subject, "Health in the Kitchen."

Preceding the meeting a dessert luncheon was served by the hostesses, Mrs. Ada Matras and Mrs. Louise Anderson, who used harvest theme for the table decorations. A wooden bowl filled with fruit and flanked on either side with orange candles centered the main table.

Mrs. Vera Carey presided at the piano for a group sing-along. Several games were played and those winning prizes were Mrs. Naomi Chapman and Mrs. Pat Cuvier.

Mrs. Bea Rittenhouse, Trio chairman, opened the meeting and reports were given by Mesdames Emma Jaklich, Mahel Gerlach, Naomi Chapman, Clara Schilling and Lucy Stewart.

Mrs. Beulah Rensing announced a Christmas craft day will be Nov. 6 at Hope Lutheran Church. Mrs. Florence Rapp reported the Southwest District meeting is set for Nov. 19 at the Long Lake Firemen's Hall, with registration beginning at 7 p.m.

The unit's annual Christmas party will be held at 1 p.m. Dec. 4 at the Grand Cafe. Reservations must be made no later than Nov. 21 with Mrs. Mary Ellen Lewis, it was announced.

Twenty-nine members and four guests, Mesdames Janet Goeller, Helene Kettelhus, Lucille Rhodes and Helen Robertson, attended the meeting.

Jr. Bay View hears Mrs. Hiles

The Junior Bay View Reading Club opened its 1973-74 season with a meeting last week in the home of Mrs. Clova Taylor, 100 Briarhaven Drive.

The program was presented by Mrs. Betty Hiles, author of a recently published music textbook, "Miss Betty's Happy Songs for Little People," written for use by children ages 2 through 7 years.

Mrs. Hiles, who composed both the lyrics and music featured in the book, played a record which accompanies the text. The recording includes all the songs in the book and are sung by her former students, she explained.

At the conclusion of the program, the hostess served a dessert course to Mr. Hiles, Miss Grayce Costello and Mesdames Charles Hunsinger, Art Koerper, Mickey Loftus, Helen Malson, B. C. O'Neill, Andy Rapoff, Isabel Schmidt, and William Beatty.

Judge Clark speaker

Circuit Judge Harold Clark of Alton will be the speaker at a meeting sponsored by the Crime Prevention and Control Committee of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce in the YMCA at 3 p.m. Friday, Oct. 26.

The meeting will be open to the public.

The committee said the meeting was arranged to discuss what it feels is a gap in communications between the various police departments, the attorneys and the judicial.

Warren Decatur, chairman of the Chamber committee, said Judge Clark's discussion will try to clear up any misunderstanding and inform the committee regarding efforts to resolve the matter.

Judge Clark is a native of Brown County, Ill., and attended the University of Illinois College of Commerce and Law School, graduating with B.S. and J.D. degrees in 1941.

After graduation he entered military service and served in the Army four and one-half years, spending three years overseas in North Africa, Sicily and Italy.

Returning to civilian life, he practiced law until 1966 when he was appointed circuit judge to complete the term of the late Judge Rola Griffith in Granite City. He since has been re-elected and retained as one of the judges of the Third Judicial Circuit of Madison and Bond Counties.

CIRCUIT JUDGE HAROLD CLARK

He presently is a member of the Executive Committee of the Illinois Judicial Conference by appointment of the Supreme Court.

He also has been co-chairman of the Southwestern Illinois Law Enforcement Commission since its inception in 1969. The commission coordinates federal and state funds for local law enforcement agencies in a seven-county area. He is married and has four children.

Statehood Day to mark 155th year

Illinois History Week will be observed from Nov. 26 through Dec. 3, according to a proclamation issued by Gov. Dan Walker, "in appreciation of the men and women who have made not only our state but our nation great."

The proclamation also designates Dec. 3 as Illinois Statehood Day—the 155th anniversary of the date Illinois joined the Union.

To help interested organizations contribute to the observance of Illinois History Week, the Illinois Special Events Commission has prepared an Illinois History Week kit, including a copy of the proclamation, a brochure with program ideas and a poster. These are being mailed to every grammar school and high school in the state, to local historical societies affiliated with the Illinois State Historical Society, to all public libraries in the state, to several hundred nonprofit community service organizations, and to Illinois news media.

In addition, the Commission will prepare and forward a calendar of events listing local and regional activities relating to Illinois History Week.

Anyone who would like a copy of the brochure, "Making History in Illinois," or the 10x24-inch poster, or who would like to announce a History Week event, may write "Illinois History Week," Old State Capitol, Springfield, Ill. 62706, a spokesman for the Commission said.

Demo dinner dance Oct. 21

The annual John F. Kennedy dinner dance sponsored by the Madison County Democratic Central Committee will be held this Sunday, at the Venice Madison American Legion Home in Venice.

The Madison County organization has sponsored the event for several years attracting capacity crowds. The event will be attended by many state, county and local officials with assurance of attendance by some already having been received by Walter T. Simmons, county chairman.

The decorating committee entrusted with converting the hall into a ballroom is at work outlining and instituting the decorative theme for the year 1973.

Women of the Democratic organization, under the guidance of Roger Hoover and Mrs. Bernie Hagnauer will spend many hours getting the hall ready for this occasion, the committee announced.

Tickets may be purchased at $25 each from the Secretary, Madison County Democratic Committee, 1506 Johnson Road, Granite City, or by calling Sam Wolf at 676-1767.

The Schermers Bulletin

The trimmed beef loin that we offered last Monday at $1.09 was a big success. It just shows that people recognize a value, and value is the name of the game at Schermers. We filled all the orders except 5 and those will be filled this week. Our friendly meat cutters thank you.

We still have fair stocks of the local grapefruit sections and combination orange and grapefruit sections. The quality is superb and when present stocks are gone, there will be no more at this price, 3 cans for $1.00.

We are constantly adjusting our meat prices downward as the market warrants and at Schermers we don't have to wait for "word from headquarters". We can do it right on the spot. The reason we mention it is we saw an ad last Thursday headlining "new low beef prices". They were only two weeks late with that change.

One of the things we like best about being an independent Super Market is that we can act immediately. When markets changes occur we can act. Chain stores are frequently weeks behind before the store change is made. Where do you shop?

"Oblong Girl Marries Normal Boy."
That kind of headline, which could only happen in Illinois, is avoided because of the confusion it would cause.

It is mentioned here because it showed up Thursday night at Sunset Hills Country Club as part of a musical presentation, "Illinois People."

The Concert Chorus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville utilized it while entertaining at the 1973 annual meeting of the Southwestern Illinois Industrial Association.

Written by Earl Robbins for the 1968 Illinois sesquicentennial, but never actually performed, "Illinois People" was given its debut Thursday night.

Only a portion was sung by the Concert Chorus. It was enthusiastically received, and gathering is looking forward to perhaps hearing more of it later from Dr. Leonard Van Camp's talented student vocalists.

The part which was presented features names of Illinois cities, and the Chorus members have taken pains to learn the exact pronunciations.

Robbins, who subsequently wrote the song "Dog Night's" hit song, "Black and White," was unable to provide a pronouncing guide because he is a Californian.

The musical conclusion was that "We're Proud to be Illinois People." Everyone who heard the inspiring music agreed completely with that thought.

The occasion provided a chance to renew acquaintances with two former Quad-Cityans promoted to higher level positions elsewhere. A. P. Steinhilber of American Steel Foundries and Paul Kenney of O. Smith Corp.

The guest speaker, John M. Marco, acting director of the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency, discussed "An inside view of the EPA."

Marco stressed the state's preference for negotiation rather than litigation, since it feels this will achieve faster progress in curbing pollution.

Time proves soundness of decision by Congress to await court action on former Vice-President

It's time to beat 'The System'

Wall Street Journal-Spiro Agnew's downfall was rooted in a pattern of petty graft that has been all too common in state houses, city halls and county court houses around the country for many years.

The depth of the corruption varies with locality but in some states—Illinois, Texas, New Jersey and Nevada are examples that first come to mind—revelations and suspicions of it have been frequent enough to create public cynicism toward state and local government.

That, no doubt, has played some considerable role in undoing the states' role in the federal system, causing an unhappy public to look to Washington for better, more honest servants.

Now that the stain has spread so heavily into Washington itself it is high time to see what further remedies can be applied to the sources of the stain in those out-of-the-way places like Annapolis, Carson City or what have you.

But it is certainly no time to despair, because the bringing to justice of Spiro Agnew suggests that ways finally have been found to get at lower level corruption.

We hope that state and local politicians who aspire to higher office—or even aspire to stay out of jail—have been put on notice by the Agnew case.

In the wake of the Watergate case and now Mr. Agnew's downfall, there is reason to believe that higher standards of political conduct will be enforced.

With public concern growing, there will be increased scrutiny of business dealings by politicians, the award of public contracts and so on.

More significantly, Edwardsville Intelligencer—"To climb so high and then to fall so far—it's a shame. But he should have known right from when they let him in. He was wrong, he wouldn't have resigned."

That's how the waitress in one Downstate Illinois dinner put it as she served a hamburger with an eye on the television news.

Her attitude sums up the mixed emotions of sympathy, shock and betrayal that most Americans felt Wednesday when they learned that Spiro Agnew had resigned the vice presidency.

Whatever evidence the Justice Department may have possessed but not used, the admissions Mr. Agnew made were sufficient in search of a political scandal.

He conceded that he received payments from state contractors while governor of Maryland, but that he never received them as taxable income.

And he admitted that those who made such payments were awarded state contracts.

There is no way to excuse such conduct, particularly from a man who could have become president at any moment and had future designs on the office.

perhaps, the Agnew case makes clear that the Justice Department has new tools for doing this job.

Ironically, "the provisions of the Organized Crime Control Act of 1970 were backed by Mr. Agnew's law-and-order line and opposed by those who now most celebrate his downfall."

But it is now clear that these tools can be used effectively against a range of criminal acts that is considerably broader than the activities of the Mafia.

The targets can also include gentlemen crimes of governors, county commissioners, planning board members, engineering contractors, real estate developers and other respectable looking guys in business suits.

The Agnew case, for example, might never have come under federal jurisdiction if the Crime Control Act had not made plotting to obstruct justice a federal crime.

And while the act's immunity provisions were apparently not fully used to get testimony against Mr. Agnew, the plea-bargaining that did take place was in the same spirit.

By rating on the Vice President, the witnesses will get off easier than they might have otherwise. These provisions are highly controversial and will in fact have to be watched in the future.

But for the moment, the point would make is that an attack on state and local corruption, if it is conducted judiciously and without political partisanship, can be highly valuable to the national policy.

We suspect that a good many of those people who have become enamored in the kick-back system would agree with that—assuming of course that they escape detection of their own past crimes.

The testimony released by Mr. Richardson contained hints that some of the men who made payments to Agnew did so with strong feelings of guilt and remorse.

An overwhelming majority of public works contractors and other businessmen who deal with governments would, we suspect, much prefer it if they could safely avoid demands for bribes or competition from aggressive bribers.

The public has a responsibility in this matter as well, however.

Salaries of public officials should be kept competitive with those of private executives who shoulder similar responsibilities.

We don't excuse Agnew on the basis of his claim that he was under-paid as a $25,000-a-year governor.

But neither can we be very admiring of a Maryland system, or that of any other state, that pays its chief executive a quarter of the sum paid a corporate executive with similar or even fewer responsibilities.

Every level of government should be better off with fewer, better-paid executives to accompany a reduced tolerance for corruption.

We are not naive enough to think that corruption can be entirely rooted out of government at all levels.

But we would like to hope that a turning point has been passed and that the turning has been dramatic by the Agnew case.

And we would like to think that the Agnew case is causing a great deal of introspection in all the nation's state houses, city halls and county court houses this week.

violated the law, know that the financing of political careers is a murky, degrading and often even sordid area of public life. Some with political ambitions want to make a personal financial killing and revel in the opportunities the prevailing values of the system give them.

But most simply know they have to raise the money for expensive campaigns and try to do it as honorably as they can, hoping that the necessary ethical compromises and returning of favors do not catch up with them.

Almost all of them fear exposure to public disclosure.

Because of that, they are caught in a trap that may not be of their making, but that only they can undo.

The agony of Agnew today will remain the agony of the nation for years to come unless political candidates at a minimum begin to hold themselves more responsible to the letter of the law and to a more rigorous standard of ethics for public life.

They should do that for their own sake, as Agnew surely must now realize.

It is important that they do it for the country's sake.

Democratic procedures and processes ultimately depend on the level of public confidence in elected officials. That confidence today is dangerously low.

October 15, 1973

Particularly in its leaders, the public has a right to expect, demand total adherence to the law, including the handling of political gifts

Greed and a desire to live well beyond his legal income have caused Spiro Agnew to be forced from the second highest office in the land, an unprecedented occurrence.

Now that allegations of unreported financial transactions are admitted to be true, the sorry episode engenders extreme disappointment. But the widespread disgust over such low conduct by such a high official is tempered by rejoicing that truth and justice have finally emerged triumphant.

It will be vital that Congress closely scrutinize the past of House Minority Leader Gerald Ford; he has been chosen by President Richard Nixon as the 1973-76 vice-president, subject to Capitol Hill approval.

Mr. Nixon himself is under income tax investigation as well as remaining a central figure in the Watergate scandal probe, and it is conceivable that the Agnew successor could become the nation's chief executive, himself then choosing still another vice-president.

We heard Mr. Ford deliver a talk and answer questions at a meeting in Washington several years ago and concluded then that he seemed extremely competent. The one potential flaw we are aware of is mentioned in a widely-read book, "Washington Payoff," in which financial dealings involving excessive campaign funds are alleged.

But the guessing now is that satisfactory answers will be provided and that the vacant post will be filled within a week or two. As a result, Cong. John Anderson of Illinois may become the next House Republican leader.

Because Illinois has had more than its share of state governmental corruption, there may be some hesitation to criticize the Maryland political climate, but from this distance it seems especially unsavory.

The clear moral is that regardless of one's station in life, there is no acceptable alternative to full adherence to the law—the spirit as well as the letter.

Especially in those they have selected to serve as leaders—shapers and administrators of government policy—citizens have every right to expect and demand total respect for and unwavering adherence to the rule of law.

Blue law on drive-in hours not necessary to control peace disturbances

An ordinance prepared for Granite City Council consideration would require drive-in restaurants to close at midnight. A brief discussion at the Oct. 1 meeting said the proposed law is aimed at curbing "trouble at one place."

Viewed strictly from a consumer standpoint, it would be convenient if all types of businesses were open day and night. From a practical standpoint, this is not possible.

But we question whether the government could or should limit the hours of such a fundamental activity as the serving of food, particularly in a community where shift work exists.

United Way, like Israel drive, easy if givers feel they are part of it

With all the problems faced by the Tri-Cities Area United Way in recent years, it might initially seem an added burden that Mideast strife has caused an October special Israel fund drive which is consuming some of the attention of Quad-Cityans.

While war is always tragic, the drive is a timely illustration that virtually any campaign can be successful if the public's heart and soul are behind it.

Vast sums were needed almost overnight for Israel after it was invaded by Arab nations a few days ago. And just such vast amounts were contributed amid comments like "People I know are suffering there" and "The need is so obvious

What is not being said openly is that this drive may be a gathering place for people, some of whom then or later become involved in disturbances or other violations.

Regardless of whether this is the case, we recall past gathering points that had nothing to offer other than parking space, and we doubt that participants would be so outlaid. That problem passed, and so will this one.

Without minimizing the problems faced by police, it would seem there are adequate legal powers to fight most breaches of the law while simultaneously permitting lawful services to be rendered.

that I'll give everything I have and go into debt if necessary."

Without attempting to equate two very different fund-raising efforts, it nevertheless seems apparent that the common denominator of all successful financial campaigns is "involvement." If those asked to give feel close identity with those who are in need, all obstacles to attaining the drive goal can be overcome.

Nothing can stand between Quad-Cityans and successful United Fund solicitation this month if they clasp it to their hearts and say, "People I know are in need. I'll do everything that is necessary to meet that need."

League provides jobs, counseling, leadership training, health services

One of a series on United Way agencies:

With a volunteer board and two full-time staff members, a professional and an administrative clerical employee, the Urban League of Madison and St. Clair counties has:

Brought an additional $326,600 into the community through a job placement program, meaning more and better food and clothing for children.

Sponsored sickle cell detection programs which promise to save the lives of many children.

Provided educational counseling and guidance to 268 youths, motivating them to stay in school, stay and prepare for satisfying careers.

Contributed to the resolving of social disorder in Alton. Sponsored a summer student program which developed youth leaders and guided them into accepting responsibility for working to resolve community problems.

Filled 250 requests from other agencies and organizations for information and helped in the solution of problems. Placed 160 persons in meaningful jobs, new or upgraded.

Co-hosted a National Urban League Conference which attracted over 4,000 people to the greater metropolitan area.

Dishonesty catches up with Agnew

part because Mr. Nixon felt an obscure partner on the ticket with him made political sense. Mr. Agnew found himself quickly in a headier atmosphere than he had ever dreamed could be his lot.

He served his president loyally for five years, faltering only when his ambitions may have gotten the better of him during the Watergate of Richard Nixon's discontent earlier this year.

Then his five years in the sun turned into a nightmare. Caught in a net of leaks and innuendo from within the Nixon administration, he was cast into the mire of scandal.

He seemed from that point on to understand he was doomed. When they nagged there was a way out of his plight, then fought back in anger, then retreated, but finally succumbed to the inevitable.

As is just and proper, Spiro Agnew found he had to face up individually and publicly to acts he had committed privately that could stand neither the light of day nor the test of law.

Whatever tragedy there was in his political fortunes, there is no tragedy, but rather an evenness to the fact that his transgressions against the law and the public trust caught up with him.

Miss Karen Nizinski and Gregory Pusczek are wed

Miss Karen Nizinski and Gregory Pusczek exchanged wedding vows in a double ring ceremony on Oct. 6 at St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church in Madison.

Officiating at the 2 o'clock service was the Rev. Sylvester Mitek before an altar banked with arrangements of fall flowers.

The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Veronica Nizinski, 813 Lee Ave., Madison, and the late Stanley Nizinski. Mr. Pusczek is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Pusczek Sr. of St. Louis.

Miss Donna Kromar, a cousin of the bride, presided at the organ and played "The Wedding Song," "Bridal March," "Ave Verum," "On This Day" and "The Wedding March."

The former Miss Nizinski was escorted down the aisle by her godfather, John Szabo. She wore a floor length gown of ivory nylon over taffeta, designed in an Empire style with a high collar of Chantilly lace.

Delicate lace motifs accented the bodice and the appliques, embellished with pearls, adorned the slightly full skirt and long puff sleeves, fashioned with fitted cuffs. A chapel length train was secured at the waist with a ribbon bow.

Her Juliet crown of Chantilly lace and pearls held in place a shoulder length bouffant veil and she carried a bouquet of white pom poms, carnations and baby breath.

Miss Mary Kromar and Miss Lynn Szevia, both cousins of the bride, served as maid of honor and bridesmaids, respectively. Their dresses were created with ivory bodices, trimmed in orange lace and ribbon, sheer full sleeves and formal length orange skirts.

Each attendant carried a cascade of orange carnations, butterscotch and bronze pom poms and wore a headpiece of fresh flowers in shades to match her frock.

Airman Christopher Pusczek served as best man for his brother. Groomsmen and ushers included Gerald Nizinski, a brother of the bride, and Edward and Gary Pusczek, both brothers of the groom.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Nizinski, was attired in a floor length gown of turquoise chiffon over taffeta, complemented with a lace jacket and matching accessories.

Mrs. Pusczek, the groom's mother, selected a long beige colored dress with accessories in the same shade. Both mothers wore cymbidium orchids with stephanotis accents.

Guests were received at a reception held at the Knights of Columbus hall in Grand Ave. Mr. and Mrs. Pusczek, parents of the groom, hosted a rehearsal dinner in their home.

The newly married couple left for a wedding trip in Ontario, Canada, after the reception.

A graduate of Madison High School, the bride is employed at the Federal Reserve Bank in St. Louis.

Her husband was graduated from McBride High School, St. Louis. He is attending the University of Missouri in St. Louis, where he is a member of Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity. He also is employed as an auditor at the Federal Reserve Bank.

The Rev. Thomas Flynn performed the double ring ceremony at two o'clock in the afternoon. Gold vases of white mums and ferns decorated the altar. Musical selections played were "The Wedding March" and "Ave Maria."

For her wedding, the bride selected a gown of ivory satin plus designed with a fitted bodice, square neckline and long bishop sleeves enhanced with Venise lace medallions.

Her gathered skirt was beaded with matching lace and swept gently into a chapel train. She wore a mantilla veil secured to a Venise lace headpiece, and she held a bouquet of white roses, pom poms, baby breath and ivy.

Members of the wedding party included Miss Kristine Onanian, a sister of the bride, maid of honor, and Mrs. Janet Hooper, Miss Carol Beatty, the bride's cousin, Miss Melanie Asadorian, the groom's sister, Miss Cindy Russell and Mrs. Mae Krum, bridesmaids.

Their long dresses of sheer organza with apricot and moss green floral print were complemented with natural colored picture hats, trailing moss green ribbons. Each attendant held a bouquet of Wilbur Abbey roses and baby breath.

The flower girl, Kenar Petrosian, was dressed in a frock similar in style to the bridesmaids' dresses. She carried a miniature bouquet.

The ringbearer, both are cousins of the bride, was Daniel Harris. Patrick Harris was the ringbearer. Both are cousins of the bride.

David Mateosian served as best man. Arthur Asadorian, the groom's brother, Richard Hooper, Charles Vartan, Kevin Newman, John McMillan and Virgil Kambarian, the latter two cousins of the groom, completed the corps of groomsmen and ushers.

Right turn on red light in state starting Jan. 1

Success of Illinois' new Right-Turn-on-Red traffic policy will depend on strict enforcement of pedestrian right-of-way laws, Michael J. Howlett, secretary of state, said Saturday.

Howlett addressed the Illinois Conference of Women Leaders for Traffic Safety, Region 5 (Cook County), at a luncheon in Chicago.

"At present it is legal in Illinois for motorists to turn right on a red light only if signs are posted allowing it," Howlett said.

"Beginning Jan. 1, 1974, it will be legal to turn right on red unless local authorities post signs prohibiting it."

"It will also be legal for motorists in a one-way street to turn left on red into another one-way street that moves traffic to the left."

"California has permitted the right-turn-on-red since 1946, and 11 other states have picked it up since. But all of them are far from here. The nearest is Minnesota."

"The new law in Illinois should help speed up traffic, eliminate congestion, let intersections handle more cars and diminish frustration of drivers who now must wait for a long red light even if no cross traffic is in sight."

"But it can operate with safety only if the law is always strictly enforced."

"Illinois currently provides that pedestrians lawfully within a crosswalk have the right-of-way over cars."

"Our new right-turn-on-red law specifically reiterates that turning cars and trucks 'shall yield the right-of-way to pedestrians lawfully within an adjacent crosswalk and to the traffic lawfully using the intersection.'"

"Pedestrians have a responsibility, too. If there is a crosswalk, they should use it. And they are not to start across against a red light if there is a separate pedestrian walk signal."

"But if a pedestrian is within the crosswalk on his way across the street when the light changes against him, the right-of-way is his, whether his stop be lame or spry."

"Illinois residents visiting in California often have noticed how cars and trucks stop immediately when pedestrians start across a street within a crosswalk, even where there are no lights or stop signs."

"In Chicago, pedestrians sometimes have the feeling they are taking their lives into their hands when they cross a busy street with the green light and in a perfectly legal manner."

"Most drivers are courteous. But many are not. When the right-turn-on-red becomes legal, all motorists should be fully aware of pedestrians' rights and respect them. Violations of the law may cost the violator his drivers license."

"Pedestrians have a responsibility, too. If there is a crosswalk, they should use it. And they are not to start across against a red light if there is a

Ask the Governor

Q. I think the property tax should be abolished and the tax loss made up by the income tax. If you make money, you pay the tax; if you don't, like the older citizens, you don't pay. What are your feelings on this?

A. I don't think it is feasible to take the property tax load completely off and put it on the state income tax. If you did, two things would happen. Number one, you would have to triple the state income tax and that would put a very substantial burden on a lot of people who couldn't afford it. I wonder how many people could afford that. Elderly persons and young people just starting out who don't own property but who rent apartments would have their taxes go up very substantially. Another problem is that if you increase the income tax on business, those of you who are working hard to get new business and industry to come into this state to improve economic conditions and to provide jobs would have a very tough time persuading them to come. You might even force some to close down, increasing unemployment.

The other reason I would like to suggest is more philosophical. You know I am a great believer in the local control of our school system. One of the reasons why you have parents at local school districts all over this state watching what goes on in their schools is because their real estate taxes go to pay for their schools. If you take away that incentive and have all the money come out of Springfield or Washington, as some people urge, then people are not going to have that incentive to go and talk to the school boards. While I want the state to put more money into public education, I want the local balance to keep the local interest in our schools.

Q. What do you plan to do in the mental health field in the next three years?

A. We are determined to make very hard to improve and increase community mental health care by getting patients out of the big, cold institutions. That some people call warehouses, and into community treatment facilities. I don't think we are going to make real progress until we move more in the direction of community care. We can combine this with good pre- and that is, treatment of patients before they have to be institutionalized—and, also, good after-care programs—the treatment of patients after they come out of an institution. That is going to be the major direction of our program in the next several years. At the same time, we are going to be adding personnel involved in direct patient care and we are going to continue getting rid of the middle-management paper shufflers. We are also going to put into effect outpatient programs at every institution so that patients, employees and the public can be assured that their complaints will go into the head of the department or, where necessary, to the governor.

Q. What is being done to fight organized crime, particularly regarding drugs?

A. Organized crime is responsible for importation and distribution of most of the narcotics throughout Illinois. When you go after the mob, especially in the Chicago metropolitan area, you are attacking the head of the distribution system for the rest of the state. And that is the job we are going to undertake with the help of Wayne Kerstetter, who came from New York to head the Illinois Bureau of Investigation. Wayne is an expert on the narcotics traffic and that is one of the reasons I sought him out. I also believe we have to concentrate on the pushers and to do this, we need tougher jail terms.

Gov. Dan Walker invites you to question him about state government and what state government should be doing for people. All questions will be answered by letter by Gov. Walker and some of the questions and answers will appear, probably condensed, in this column. Letters must be signed and an address provided. Send to: ASK THE GOVERNOR, Illinois Information Service, 105 State Office Building, Springfield, Illinois 62706.

The first few columns will use questions and answers from Gov. Walker's accountability sessions being held throughout the state. As soon as the mail develops, the governor will use the mailed questions.

270 persons tested at sight clinic show vision problems

By VALERIE EVENDEN
Press-Record Staff Writer

A total of 270 persons, representing 37 per cent of the 725 men, women and children taking advantage of the "Save Our Sight" eye screening program last week were found to have some type of vision problem, sponsors of the program reported.

The free service to area residents was conducted at Coolidge Junior High School under the general direction of Fred Marvin, executive director of the Vision Conservation Institute.

Sponsoring the program were the Granite City Kiwanis and Jaycee clubs.

Persons found to have some problem with their eyes were advised to see a doctor of their choice for further tests or corrective treatment.

Of the 725 individuals attending the one-day clinic, 50 per cent was in the 16 to 18 years age group.

Persons 35 years and over constituted 19 per cent of those examined; 17 per cent was 19 to 34 years and children between the ages of 3 and 5 years made up 14 per cent.

Youngsters and teenagers in the 6 to 18 group, representing about half those examined at the screening clinic, also produced the highest number of referrals for further examination—about 62 per cent, the sponsors reported.

Twenty-six per cent of those 35 years and older was advised to seek further testing, while 10 per cent of persons screened between 19 and 34 years old was referred and only 2 per cent of the 3-to-5-year-olds received referral slips.

Referrals by defect type were: Near accommodation—27 per cent; far acuity—26 per cent; stereopsis (three dimensional vision)—14 per cent; near acuity—10 per cent; field of vision—9 per cent; hyperopia (farsightedness)—5 per cent; eye pressure—4 per cent; color perception—3 per cent; and muscle balance—2 per cent.

Locally, Dr. Benjamin Rose of Granite City acted as general consultant at the eye screening clinic and organized the professional staff consisting of Dr. Gary Meier and Dr. James Strieter, both of Collinsville.

Steve Baldwin, Mrs. Norma Koesterer and Mrs. Mary Jesse assisted the staff during the testing. The Vision Conservation Institute executive was assisted by his wife, Mrs. Mae Marvin, in directing the program.

Certain aspects of the tests and record-keeping tasks were performed by volunteers from the Granite City Kiwanis clubs and Jaycees, augmented by family members and friends.

Darrell Weible served as chairman of the Kiwanis group, aided by Kiwanians Allen Jesse, Howard Ebertson, Pete Jellen, Wilhelm Verschuyt, Herb Schannott and Bill Hayes.

Heading the Jaycee volunteers was Guy Cooper, assisted by Jaycees Bill Weible, Al DeLay, Thomas Meador, Tom Holtgrave, Randall Hill, Emmett Meador, Larry Patton, Jim Throne, To Peterson, Jerry Gann, Jim Lake, Leroy Hoffman and Darrell Weible.

Others helping at the "Save Our Sight" clinic were Lucille Aramowicz, Janis Weible, Wanda Hill, Linda Weible, Emaleen Meador, Mary Thrane, Marilyn Weible, Mickey Patton, Cheryl Gann, John Verschuyt, Lucille Schannott, Mary Jellen, Pat Verschuyt, Kenny Weible and Tony Weible.

Boy Scout Troop 16 members serving as ushers included Mike and Doyle Elledge, Mark Vizer, Dave Throne, Billy and Marion Martin, Mike Testerman, Vince Martin and Wesley Grim. Also assisting were Vee Throne, Troop 16 committee chairman and Jack Vizer, Troop 16 scoutmaster.

Optimists told fuel shortage real thing

The fuel shortage is the real thing, Benjamin Livingston, local Shell Oil distributor, informed the Granite City Optimist club at its Thursday noon meeting in the YMCA.

Livingston told the club that he is getting fuel oil for commercial and home use strictly on an allotment basis and that he has not been able to accept any new customers.

He suggested that if people would turn their thermostats down at night, and insulate their houses properly, they could save as much as 18 per cent on their fuel bill and help solve the fuel problem.

A review of the Camelot Auction was then made. Items ranging in price from $5 to $50 will be offered that will present real savings to those attending, club members were told.

Tickets to the auction scheduled at Sunset Hills Country Club Saturday sell for $10 each. The admission included a buffet dinner. Tickets may be bought from any Rotary or Optimist member.

Optimists Louis Fashoff and Tony Michel each donated $20 to the Camelot Auction committee for the honor of cutting off Optimist Vice-President Kent Dunn's hair and beard.

- 2. Tread Life Guarantee Against Defects
We guarantee the Grantmaster tires, against all defects of material and workmanship, for the life of the tread.
Basis of Adjustment: Should your Grantmaster tire require adjustment under Section 1 or 2 of the Guarantee, please return it to Grants and we will replace it by giving you a proportionate allowance for the unused tread, based on the current selling price, including Federal Excise Tax.
- 3. Guaranteed Against Tread Wear
The original tread is guaranteed not to wear out for the number of months designated. If tread wears out during this period, the tire should be returned to Grants and we will replace it, charging the current regular selling price plus Federal Excise Tax less the following percentage allowance toward the purchase of a new tire.

Tire Guarantee	Allowance
18-27 Months	10%
